GDPR

Among other things, it is good to take the following things into account regarding GDPR:

- Use students first names or nicknames, when you use platforms that store student data.
- Consider age restrictions or/and get permission from a parent, if a student creates an account in an online environment.
- Make sure that the student data is not shared with any third parties without permission.
- Check whether the servers of the online platform you are using are located in Europe.
- Erase student data when it is no longer necessary.
